

BIBLICAL FORGIVENESS

By Dr. Kent A. Field Ó 1997

Topical Study

There are many people in the world today who profess to be Christians, “followers of the Christ”, who like many people have been wronged by someone. They’ve been mistreated and abused. They’ve been taken for granted or worse. The purpose of this study is to answer several critically important questions. What does it mean when the Word says that “God has called us to peace”? This topical study is probably one of the most difficult to understand, accept and implement into our daily lives. But as we will soon learn it is also a critically pivotal point in our understanding of our own forgiveness and what really happens when God forgives us. Understanding God’s forgiveness and its qualities and results will help us to better understand what God is asking from us when He commands and requires us to forgive our neighbor.

Carefully study the following passages in your Bible. Answer each question from the passages listed with those respective verses. The answers to the following questions can be clearly seen within the passage. As you locate the answers within the verses given, COMPARE the Bible’s answers to how YOU might have otherwise answered those same questions. Any differences? REMEMBER! We’re NOT looking for your OPINIONS or FEELINGS or other subjective reasons why you may think you’re exempt here. In our search for Truth, we’re looking for God’s answers in the Bible to these important questions.

Is there someone that you say you've "forgiven", but you won't have anything to do with them?

Is there someone you say you forgive, but you can't stand their fellowship and company?

Is there someone you say you've forgiven, but you yet have to comfort them and confirm your love for them?

Is there someone you think you've forgiven, but you haven't yet been reconciled to them the way God forgives us and reconciles us to Himself through the blood of His Son Jesus Christ?

Do you really appreciate the prayer of Jesus on the Cross and God's forgiveness?("Father, forgive them,. They know not what they do!")

What must you do to bring forth the fruits of the Spirit and demonstrate that you've been born again?

Are you forgiven?
